

Directions: Fill in the blanks.

Bob was feeling tired and run d____. He had not seen a doctor in a long, long time. He made up his mind that it was time to go get a check ____.

Bob called the clinic near his home. "I would like to get a _____ up," he said. They told him when to come in the next w____. He wrote dow__ the date and time.

When Bob went to the clinic, he had to wait. Then a nurse came out and asked him to follow her. First she asked Bob to st____ on the scales. Bob weighed more than he thought. Quite a lot m____ in fact. The nurse wrote down Bob's weight in his __art.

Then she took Bob's pulse. His heart was beating pretty f____. The nurse wrote down Bob's pulse in his ____art.

Next she put a blood pressure cuff on Bob's l____ arm and pumped it up. The nurse wrote down Bob's blood pressure in his __art.

"Do you __oke?" she asked.

"No," said Bob.

“What did you come to see the doctor about today?” she asked.

“I’ve been feeling tired and r___ down. I thought I should get a ch___ up,” said Bob.

“You’re right about that,” she said. “Dr. Smith will examine you today. Then he will let you know ___ he wants to order any more tests.”

“Do you think he will give me any pills to take?” Bob asked.

“He might. But first he will need to find out what your problem is.” Then she said, “Now, please undress and put on this gown. It opens at the b____.” She smiled at Bob and left the __oom.

Bob got undressed. He didn’t like the __own, but he put it on anyway. He was glad he had decided to come to the clinic.